ABOUT ME

I am Aleksandar Celar, freelance professional photographer and videographer, currently living in Barcelona, Spain. I am also assistant professor and lecturer in the fields of video and photography at faculty for Design and multimedia at University Donja Gorica in Monte Negro. I have M.A. diploma in Interactive media and 20+ years of professional experience in shooting and post production of video and photo content. My other field of interests are interactive installations, web design, graphic design and game design.

Photography in my family is tradition. My grandfather open photography studio in "60s. He was running studio 25 year. After him, my uncle inherited business and he was my teacher from my early days. Thanks to them, I was in photography sense I know how to hold camera. Now I am more than 20 years in professional photography and I planning to endure, because more than anything else, photography become my life.

JOY, THE LOVE AND THE MEMORIES

I specialize in conceptual portraiture, beach sessions and events, venturing away from traditional and conventional photographic styles, and developing a taste of telling stories through our photographs. My style is best described as artistic, emotional and atmospheric. This is brought to life with a very specific and continued emphasis on emotions, love, and family. Influenced by playful narratives, elegance, we enjoy creating stories with a cinematic approach.

Photography provides a unique way to capture those important events in our lives - the joy, the love and the memories. Either on location for a beautiful sunset beach shoot or in my fully equipped studio, my aim is to capture your family's emotion.
